

Mickler & Associates, Inc.

"I don't want anyone to know what I'm up to."

Whether it's securing existing data from theft or loss, battening down the hatches on your network, or, reliably destroying data from used hard disks and laptops, Mickler & Associates, Inc. can help.

Our principal consultant, Russell Mickler, is a certified Computer Information System Security Professional (CISSP) - one out of only 42 thousand people world-wide with internationally-recognized skill, knowledge, and experience to tackle even the toughest and most sensitive data disposal problems.

We can help your company put together the right policies and procedures to control the archival and dissemination of confidential information. We can help you implement technical, administrative, and physical controls to restrict access to confidential data. Further, we can show you how to prepare audit and disposal logs to track assets as they move through their lifecycle, to reflect management's intention in preserving the confidentiality of electronic data. Finally, we can help dispose of and certify the appropriate destruction of confidential data. It's not hard—it's just a process; a process that protects the confidentiality of your business and closes the loop on extended liability due to security loss or breach. Call us today for a free consultation and for an explanation on how we can help you.
